Fiscal Year 2014-15 Accountability Report

SUBMISSION FORM

AGENCY MISSION	The mission for the Office of the Lieutenant Governor is to fulfill the state constitutional duties of the Office and the Lieutenant Governor's role as President of the Senate. As South Carolina's second highest ranking Constitutional Officer, the Lieutenant Governor provides leadership on legislative matters and public policy, and serves as the chief advocate for the state's senior citizens. In addition, the Lieutenant Governor's Office works to meet the present and future needs of seniors and to enhance the quality of life for seniors through advocating, planning, and developing resources in partnership with federal, state, and local governments, nonprofits, the private sector and individuals.

AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

2015 Lieutenant Governor's Office Accountability Report

As of July 1, 2014, The Honorable John Yancey McGill was Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina. He continued to serve in this constitutional post until The Honorable Henry Dargan McMaster was inaugurated as Lieutenant Governor on January 14, 2015.

Since becoming Lieutenant Governor on January 2015, Mr. McMaster has performed the constitutional duties of the office as President of the Senate, worked closely with state leaders to promote economic development, advised policymakers on the important issues facing the state, delivered constituent services, and has vigorously championed aging issues throughout the state, while ensuring that the Lieutenant Governor's Office on Aging and the South Carolina Aging Network were accountable stewards of federal and state aging resources.

From July 1, 2014 – June 30, 2015, the Lieutenant Governor's Office on Aging strived to meet the critical needs facing the state's growing senior population through planning and advocacy, as well as by providing valuable federal and state resources to the ten regional Area Agencies on Aging throughout the state. During that time, the Office on Aging delivered direct services to 31,004 South Carolinians. These direct services include but are not limited to group dining meals, home-delivered meals, legal assistance, home chores, and transportation services.

Also during the fiscal year, the Ombudsman program investigated 7,621 cases and visited 19,451 facility residents. The Alzheimer's program provided education and/or training to 8,029 individuals, while another 8,241 individuals received family caregiver support and 4,607 received family caregiver respite.

Over 242,204 people were served through the Office on Aging's insurance counseling, Medicare counseling, information and referral assistance, online systems, outreach efforts, and events.

Organization

Lieutenant Governor's Office:

Under the state constitution, Lieutenant Governor McMaster serves as President of the Senate and assumes the position of Governor if for any reason the Governor is unable to perform the duties of that office. Additionally, the Lieutenant Governor is responsible for the duties, functions, and responsibilities of the State Office on Aging.

The Lieutenant Governor's Office on Aging:

The LGOA is the federally designated State Unit on Aging (SUA). The LGOA is responsible for administering all of the federal Older Americans Act (OAA) funds as well as state appropriated funds. The LGOA is required by law to allocate federal funds (through a federally approved funding formula) to the 10 Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs). The AAAs use this funding for regional planning, resource coordination, client needs assessments, and oversight of a coordinated service delivery system. Each AAA competitively procures with providers for a wide range of Home and Community-Based services offered locally to seniors. It is the AAAs that have legal contractual relationships with the county providers and not the LGOA.

With the state's aging population increasing significantly, the LGOA works diligently to meet the OAA mandate to serve South Carolina's seniors and vulnerable adults with the greatest social and economic needs, by advocating, facilitating, coordinating, educating, granting, and regulating, as well as providing critical funding for aging services and programming. In addition, the LGOA is a clearinghouse for aging data and information, and serves as a think tank for aging planning and innovative ideas in order to ensure that the needs of seniors and adults with disabilities are met.

Older Americans Act (OAA) Relationship

The Older Americans Act (OAA) requires that there must be a legally designated SUA in each state that coordinates aging services and programs and administers federal funding. While the LGOA is legally authorized by the South Carolina Code of Laws to provide aging services in South Carolina, the OAA provides the LGOA with most of its operational guidance.

The OAA is the structural blueprint that provides programmatic and service development direction nationwide to provide essential aging programs and services. Because the OAA mandates national statutory requirements, it is not tailored for specific aging challenges for each state. Therefore, the OAA grants the LGOA (as the State Unit on Aging) the authority and the latitude to set policies best tailored to serve South Carolina's seniors and vulnerable adults, as long as those policies are within the scope of the OAA. The LGOA works with partners such as the National Association of States United for Aging and Disabilities (NASUAD) and the Administration for Community Living (ACL) to interpret the OAA and to set policies and operational protocols that effectively meet the life-sustaining needs facing South Carolina's elderly population and adults with disabilities.

Coordinating a statewide Aging Network

The LGOA administers aging services using federal funds received through the Older Americans Act (OAA), and with funds provided by the State of South Carolina. These funds are distributed to 10 regional Area Agencies on Aging (AAA), who then contract with local providers for services such as home-delivered and group dining meals, transportation, home care services, respite, legal assistance, senior employment services, evidence-based programs, and disease prevention/health promotion. The LGOA is given unmitigated authority by the OAA to administer aging programs and services, yet the unique structure mandated by the OAA provides challenges. The LGOA actively educates policy makers, the general public, and its Aging Network partners on the important role that the OAA and South Carolina statutes provides the LGOA in coordinating and administering aging programs. The OAA guides the LGOA in instituting comprehensive policy planning for statewide programming and regional service delivery that best serves South Carolina's seniors and vulnerable adults.

Services provided through LGOA Funding

The LGOA provides numerous resources and services to seniors and adults with disabilities in South Carolina. These Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) provide assistance which benefits seniors and adults with disabilities by allowing them to live at home independently and safely for as long as possible. Services include rental assistance, legal services, respite, caregiver support, insurance counseling, Medicare fraud prevention, nutrition, health prevention, transportation, homemaker services, minor home repair, Information and Assistance/Referral (I&R/A), and Long Term Care Ombudsman programs.

Strategic Planning

The LGOA strives to achieve the goals set by its proactive strategic planning process. Strategic planning at the LGOA is an ongoing process, and the agency aims to officially update its Strategic Plan during the 2015 – 2016 State Fiscal Year.

During the 2015 – 2016 fiscal year, the Lieutenant Governor and his staff plan to address the office's multi-year strategic plan in order to address the many critical challenges facing the future of the South Carolina Aging Network. The agency will continue to implement policies and long-term goals to modernize and improve the delivery of services to seniors and adults with disabilities in South Carolina. Under Lieutenant Governor

McMaster, the LGOA will continue to work with the 10 Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) to enhance service delivery to the state's rapidly growing senior population, which is expected to double by the year 2030.

The LGOA's Key Challenges

While strategic planning guides how the LGOA successfully manages and coordinates aging programs, the agency faces other challenges, such as serving a rapidly growing senior population and the modernization and enhancement of a near-capacity statewide service delivery system.

The 2014 – 2015 key challenges are found below:

2010 Census Bureau data demonstrates the need to place a greater emphasis on critical aging issues in South Carolina, as the state's aging population is growing significantly and will double by the year 2030. The statistics are as clear, as they are alarming. The growing population presents numerous challenges for the LGOA.

- 11.5% of South Carolina's seniors live in poverty.
- One in 11 of South Carolina's seniors are at risk for hunger.
- Nearly 10% have Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder.
- Over 25% of those 85 years or older require institutional care.
- Over one-third of seniors live on Social Security alone, some as little as $710 a month.
- 51% of people aged 55 years and older have less than $50,000 saved for retirement.
- Options for long-term care are not sufficient to provide for the current and growing need.
- Middle-income residents are increasingly unable to support themselves due to the rising costs of health and long term care.

2014 – 2015 LGOA Accomplishments

- The LGOA took steps to improve communications within the South Carolina Aging Network by establishing a Policy Task Force consisting of LGOA staff, Area Agency on Aging (AAA) Directors, and aging service providers. The committee met throughout the year to develop policy, to initiate new assessment tools and protocols, and to maintain an open dialogue on timely issues facing the Aging Network.
- The LGOA developed Boots' Buddies: A pet program for seniors, which is being piloted in the Central Midlands, Catawba, and Trident Regions. The purpose of the program is to provide no-cost to low-cost pet supplies and services so that senior citizens may remain in their homes with their pets. Studies show that pets provide seniors with many valuable benefits that contribute to a higher quality of life.
- The LGOA partnered with the South Carolina Department of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism to sponsor South Carolina Seniors Week from January 8-18, 2015. During the week, South Carolina residents age 55 or over were eligible for vacation deals and discounts at restaurants, attractions, and hotels. While the promotion afforded seniors, many of whom have limited incomes, the opportunity to enjoy South Carolina attractions; it also benefitted statewide tourism during a traditionally slow period of the year. <http://discoversouthcarolina.com/seniors-week>
- The LGOA partnered with the South Carolina Department of Agriculture to provide Thanksgiving meals to seniors using South Carolina produce and products.
- The LGOA partnered with the Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) and local service providers to establish an aging policy task force. The task force was successful in building bridges to strengthen communications within the Aging Network.
- The LGOA initiated the modernization of the nutrition program with the starting point of food safety and food quality.

AGENCY NAME:	Lieutenant Governor's Office
AGENCY CODE:	E04	SECTION:	95

- The agency initiated a revised nutrition education program with a Dietitian / Nutritionist overseeing the program.
- The LGOA nutrition program held an all-state nutrition program meeting for the first time in many years. The purpose of the meeting was to raise awareness of newly revised food safety regulations and emphasize the importance of program compliance in the areas of food quality, food safety, nutrition education and menus.
- The LGOA continued its successful partnership with the South Carolina Housing Finance and Development Authority to provide emergency rental assistance to seniors. Through the program, the LGOA provided rental assistance to 233 applicants, using $250,000 provided by the Housing Authority.
- The LGOA partnered with the City of Columbia Parks and Recreation Department to host the 2015 Senior Expo on May 1, 2015. Approximately 450 seniors attended from all across the state of South Carolina to help kickoff Older Americans Month. Educational information was provided via aging focused seminars and vendors, while health and wellness was highlighted through fitness classes and free health screenings. The LGOA raised over $15,000 in sponsorships through public/private partnerships and networking efforts to help fund the event.
- The LGOA continued to promote its Senior P.R.E.P. initiative in 2015. The agency continues to partner with the Walgreens' Corporation and the South Carolina Emergency Management Division to educate seniors of the importance of preparing for emergency situations. LGOA staff was invited to give a presentation on Senior P.R.E.P. at the 2015 National Alliance of Information and Referral Assistance Systems Conference in Dallas, Texas on May 29, 2015.
- The LGOA launched Program Specific Client Tracking Portals on April 1, 2015. Four new portals were created to streamline data entry and reporting while emphasizing the importance of protecting client's personal information.
- The LGOA partnered with the South Carolina Institute of Medicine and Public Health to release a long-term care report that addresses the state's long-term care needs. Creating Direction: A Guide for Improving Long-Term Care in South Carolina provides recommendations for the Aging Network to following when addressing issues which affect seniors and their quality of life.
- The LGOA has partnered with the Mount Pleasant Police Department to address Medicare fraud. As a result of a presentation made by the Mount Pleasant Chief of Police to the South Carolina Advisory Council on Aging in March 2015, the LGOA's Senior Medicare Patrol has established a partnership with the police department to provide education and outreach to seniors to determine and detect Medicare fraud.
