State Treasurer

It used to be that when someone asked what state agency I worked for I was proud to say the State Treasurer's Office. Now I am embarrassed. It is well known throughout state government that the Treasurer's Office is clearly the worst agency to work for. The obvious disrespect for the experience and institutional knowledge of the staff, the famous and frequent temper tantrums by the State Treasurer and the fact that neither he nor his Deputy Treasurer have anything resembling a moral compass have caused the mass exodus from the agency. Despite Ms. Adams declaration during her dog and pony show at the Committee meeting that the loss of so much talent is a good thing so new blood can be brought in, the operations of the agency have suffered greatly because so much of the "new blood" don't have the credentials. Either Ms. Adams is delusional when she smugly announced that morale is high, or the people who are telling her that are not unlike the "business partners" she paraded in front of the Committee. By virtue of their relationship to the agency. they had no choice but to sing the agency's praises. It is not a matter of IF it is all going to blow up, but when.
